RevoluPOS Instant Free Trial Billing Platform

RevoluPOS was designed principally to bring the developing world into the 21st century. RevoluPOS appeals to small businesses in developed nations that wish to expand payment acceptance via credit or debit cards. Through constant analysis of users, the Company has identified that certain users, especially those wishing to try RevoluPOS in their business, need the ability to realize a trial transaction. Namely, charge a consumer while testing the system in real-time without formally completing all the sign-up and compliance steps. As a result, starting April 2023, the Company expects to launch a Free-Use trial of RevoluPOS, allowing between two and three trial transactions of up to 250 euros (or foreign currency equivalent) to occur without the obligated sign-up procedure. The Company aims to respond to user feedback and numerous comments about offering a short sign-up free trial of the billing platform to allow new users to test its unique attributes. The Company expects RevoluPOS to experience a dramatic increase in merchants and users due to this upcoming free-trial scenario.
